of the European Union

THE CONSORTIUM AIMS TO:

1

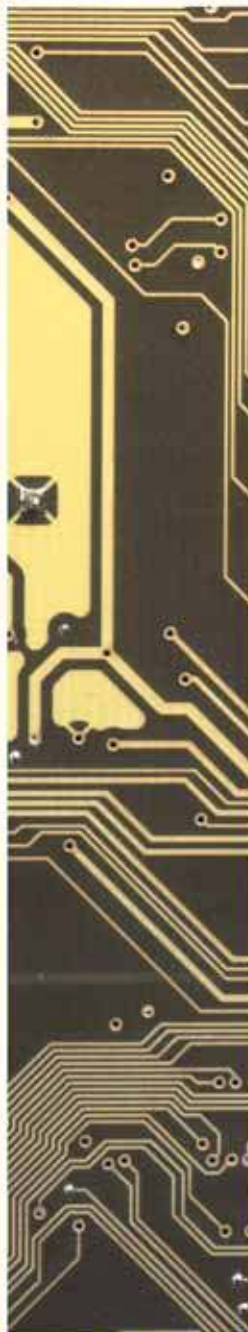

Ensure the self-sustainability of students, ATO veterans, unemployment center applicants and career-transitioning engineers by equipping them with the skills and knowledge needed for employment in the digital game sector.

2

Promote professional development in digital game industry among universities' faculty staff, teachers and researchers, as well as among trainers at unemployment and job consulting centers.

Help game sector managers assimilate university graduates into their companies.

By building a symbiotic cooperation between universities and the game industry, the GameHub project fosters human investment into the emerging Ukrainian IT Business Sector.

EXPECTED OUTCOMES:

Competence profiles of employees at all professional levels within the digital game market.

Training provided to 180 university teachers, 500 students and 150 unemployed (including ATO veterans) to enhance their skill and competency levels.

GameHub structure and facilities at every Ukrainian partner university.

Newly created Game labs with 18 learning modules, providing open and innovative teaching resources for new subjects that will modernize the Ukrainian engineering education.

An international Game Design Conference organized by a consortium in Ukraine.

Enhanced relevance of the universities' curricula to the Ukrainian labor market.
