THE GLOBAL BUSINESS PROGRAM IN BRIEF

The Institute of International Management at FH JOANNEUM currently maintains comprehensive cooperation agreements with some 100 universities around the globe. Most of these agreements have international student exchanges at their focus. The Institute of International Management acknowledges the special needs of incoming foreign exchange students and designed the Global Business Program (GBP) to meet their specific requirements.

The GBP is designed as a modular educational program. Each course is instructed over a period of 2x1 or 1x2 weeks, which enables the students to step in and out of the program at practically any time of their own choice.

Furthermore, the GBP is international and cross-cultural – about 30 different nationalities are meeting, working, and studying together in one class. The courses are instructed by faculty members of the Department of International Management and selected visiting professors from prestigious foreign universities. As the medium of communication is English, students have the unique opportunity to study in English while living in a German-speaking environment.

“FH JOANNEUM gives you the opportunity to meet professors from all over the world, who have an excellent background in their field of study, and build an international network while studying in one of the most beautiful cities, Graz. I keep a great memory of the GBP classes and of the atmosphere among students. I even decided to come again, now I do my exchange studies at the same Institute in the master program. Therefore, I would recommend it to any student looking for an internationally orientated academic curriculum, an environment that stimulates your learning and that will enjoy the very open-minded and rich interaction with the classmates and professors.”

Katja Debelak, student from Slovenia

“The Global Business Program has been the biggest experience in my life. It simply changed my life positively in personal, business abilities, and it gave to me great friendships and memories while meeting students from many countries. In other words, my concept of the world and life changed for me when I shared and learnt experiences with people from different cultures around the world. This program is definitely worth it for those who really want to experience new and unforgettable memories. Graz is a great place to study and live, surrounded by incredible landscapes, pleasant life-style in the city and a university that not only helps you to improve even more your international knowledge as a foreigner but also makes you feel you are at home: the FH JOANNEUM. I personally thank the FH and everyone who made this GBP possible and amazing experience for me!”

GRAZ IS THE CAPITAL OF STYRIA AND AUSTRIA'S
SECOND-LARGEST CITY

STYRIA (GERMAN: STEIERMARK) IS THE
SECOND-LARGEST
PROVINCE IN AUSTRIA
AND KNOWN AS
AUSTRIA'S „GREEN HEART“.

STYRIA & AUSTRIA

STYRIA (German: Steiermark) is the second-largest province in Austria and known as Austria's „green heart“. Forests cover about half of the country, and grasslands and vineyards cover another quarter. Styria borders Slovenia and Hungary as well as the Austrian provinces of Burgenland, Lower Austria, Upper Austria, Salzburg, and Carinthia. In the Dachstein mountains overshadowing the Enns Valley, skiing is possible all year round. The south of Styria known as the Weinstraße (Wine Road) is hilly and dominated by large vineyards and reminds its visitors of Tuscany – therefore it is also called „Styrian Tuscany“.

HIGHLIGHT OF GRAZ

GRAZ is the capital of Styria and Austria's second-largest city with about 275,000 inhabitants. A short walk through the Old Town, a UNESCO World Culture Heritage site with a Mediterranean atmosphere, is a transition to past centuries. From the 15th century, it was a major bulwark against the Turks and, in the 17th century, adopted the Baroque before the rest of the Austrian empire. The city is compact, and the most important sights are within walking distance of the market square of the Hauptplatz. The Landesmuseum Joanneum, a large complex of museums, is one of the world's oldest, including the Alte Galerie with its superb Gothic paintings. The Neue Galerie in the Herberstein Palace displays 19th- and 20th-century paintings, including some works by the world famous Austrian painters Egon Schiele and Gustav Klimt. The Cathedral, the Mausoleum of Emperor Ferdinand II, the Leech Church, the pedestrian zone of the old quarter, the Schlossberg (Castle Hill) with its Uhrturm (clock tower) and Glockenturm (bell tower) are also worth seeing. In some distance in west of the city, Schloss Eggenberg, a 16th century palace noted for its state rooms and museums, is situated within walking distance of the FH JOANNEUM. More than any other provincial centre, Graz preserves the old Kaffeehaus culture, where one can sit all day enjoying a leisurely coffee and watching the life of the city.

STUDENTS' LIFE AT THE FH JOANNEUM CAMPUS GRAZ

The Institute of International Management is located at the Graz Campus in the west of the city. It offers degree programs in six departments, providing state-of-the art infrastructure for more than 3500 students: modern laboratories and studios, a library, lecture halls, cafeterias, and a lot of green space. In short, a great place to study and research.

The student dormitory next to the FH provides students with everything they need. The accommodation features generously appointed units also for disabled people and families, a fitness room plus multi-purpose, event, and exhibition rooms.

For additional information about this dormitory as well as other students dormitories in Graz, please visit and apply at: www.oead.at

“What I love most about the Global Business Program at FH JOANNEUM is the flexibility it provides for us exchange students. The different courses are scheduled in blocks that last for 1-2 weeks, which allows us to complete them within that time frame. Moreover, I have had the opportunity to interact with many exchange students and have learnt much from their different cultures. The experience gained is something I will definitely cherish.”

Sean Lau Jiawei, student from Singapore

APPLIED SUMMER SCHOOL @ THE INSTITUTE OF INTERNATIONAL MANAGEMENT

The Institute of International Management at FH JOANNEUM University of Applied Sciences also offers an Applied Summer School on "Business in Europe" to invited partner institutions. The Applied Summer School takes place every year in July and lasts for three weeks.

The summer school introduces the participants to various aspects of doing business in Europe, in particular in the European Union. The program addresses issues of culture, economics, business, communication, and the legal framework. Each of these modules consists of theory and applied parts. In addition, the summer school comprises company visits and excursions. The company visits include meetings with senior executives of major Austrian companies. Since Austria has an extremely high rate of foreign trade, the companies selected for the summer school are internationally active, and the participants of the summer school will be able to get a deep insight into practical issues of business in Europe.

Within the framework of the Applied Summer School, also a voluntary German language course will be offered.

Excursions to a world heritage castle, to a famous chocolate manufacture, to the city of Vienna, and to the capital of Slovenia, Ljubljana, will give students the opportunity to get to know the culture of Austria and a neighboring country.
